SUPPORTING STUDENTS THROUGH AWARDS

Every year, AORE presents a variety of awards to AORE Student Members in recognition of the outstanding work they do in the field of Outdoor Recreation and Education.

More than 124 student awards given in AORE history.

More than $27,500 funded in awards & scholarships in the last 10 years alone.

"The most impactful part of receiving the Bridge Builder Scholarship was knowing that AORE is recognizing and valuing diversity and inclusion work. Feeling support for this type of programming from my university and from the larger scale of AORE motivated me to implement more diversity and inclusion training in my own outdoor program."

Brenna Powell
2015 Student Bridge Builder Scholarship Recipient
Graduate Assistant, Outdoor Education & Leadership at Rocknell University

"The conference provided me an opportunity to connect with people in other organizations doing similar work and for us to share ideas with one another."

~Brenna Powell
SUPPORTING STUDENTS THROUGH AWARDS

"I will never forget the moment at the Awards Banquet when my name was called as the Bill March Award winner. It was a huge honor.

AORE has helped me grow as a professional in the field of outdoor recreation and is a big reason I am where I am today."

Robert Taylor
1999 Bill March Award Recipient
Associate Director of Programs,
Division of Student Affairs at Clemson University

"AORE has always felt like an extended family and I appreciate the support I get from everyone throughout the year. I always look forward to reconnecting with everyone at the conference."

—Robert Taylor

Amanda Even
2010 Bill March Award recipient. Assistant Director of Adventure Programs at University of Maryland

OVER 400
Collegiate Outdoor Recreation programs in the United States

Source: OutdoorEd.com

810.299.2782  NationalOffice@aore.org  www.AORE.org  Facebook: AOREAssociation
Twitter: AOREOutdoors  Instagram: AOREOutdoors